

Town Again Rejects Zoning Proposal For Condominiums

The Planning Board spent long hours developing their multiple-family housing amendment to the zoning bylaw, but voters defeated the town meeting article with a 389 to 118 vote Tuesday night after just a few minutes of discussion.

The zoning amendment presented in Article 17 would have allowed new condominium developments in Andover, but voters were not satisfied that the proposal represented the planners' best effort. It was the second defeat for multifamily or condominium zoning in the town. Last fall a proposal to create a bylaw and rezone land off Argilla road and Andover street was defeated.

"I am not opposed to multiple-family housing — it would be a good thing for the town," Rebecca Backman of Foster's Pond told the townspeople. "But not the way this bylaw is presented."

Backman, who attended several of the planners' meetings while the bylaw was in the works, argued that it would not provide "affordable" housing for young and elderly residents — one of the aims of the bylaw. Condominiums would probably sell for $80,000 to $100,000 under the bylaw, she said, which would "not present an alternative to the type of housing now available in town."

She added that the proposal would rezone nine square miles, or one-third of the town, and that several sites could be suitable for condominium development under the bylaw — more than Planning Board Chairman Frank McBride had indicated when he introduced the article.

"We should walk before we run," Backman said. "If we want multi-family housing, we should take more time to study the issues, and come back with a bylaw that is more thoughtful and sensitive to the issues than this one is."

McBride agreed that the proposal did not deal with the issue of affordable housing "effectively," and explained that it was not clear how many sites in town might qualify for condominium development under the bylaw. "At this point, there might not even be one site available," he said.

The chairman said his board had developed the bylaw under "time constraints," because at a special town meeting last November, town officials had pledged to return to the annual meeting with a multifamily amendment. An amendment proposed by former selectman Sidney P. White was defeated at that special meeting.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark added that the planners had developed "a good bylaw" that was "not a panacea bylaw. It only deals with a limited section of the market. The fundamental question is whether the town wants to see an increase in multi-family housing. This bylaw deals with one aspect of the problem."

The selectmen, who supported the article, were also banking on it to help solve the condominium conversion problem by reducing the incentives for developers to convert existing rental units into condominiums, Clark said.

But Thayer Warshaw of 45 Clark Road noted that he was "very much impressed" with Backman's points. "If this is not (the planning board's) best shot, then let's wait until we get their best shot," he urged the voters.

After the vote was taken, Selectman Edward Harris said he found it "extremely disappointing and extremely peculiar" that voters had defeated the proposal.

"The selectmen have spent a great deal of time trying to get this passed," Harris said, "and I think it was an excellent bylaw."

The zoning amendment, as described by McBride, would have allowed multiple-family housing in three areas of town: within a mile and one-half radius of the central business district, and a one mile radius of Shawsheen Village and Ballardvale Square.

In addition, the proposal would have

Voters Reject Saving Of Historic Shattuck Buildings

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Historic Commission saw what may have been its last chance to save the historic Shattuck farm buildings defeated by town meeting Tuesday night with a 311 to 166 vote.

Article 19, requesting the rezoning of a

1.3 acre parcel in the West Andover Industrial Tech Park where the three buildings might have been moved, had the approval of town officials, but aroused neighbors' fears and charges of spot zoning.

Discussion of the article turned out to be the longest, and perhaps the liveliest, of the annual meeting's opening session. Historic Commission Chairman Philip K. Allen said the commission had been trying to save the farm buildings "ever since the Tech Park started."

Allen showed slides of the Abbot-Noyes-Shattuck house, the Abbot-Shattuck house, and the former country store, explaining that the red wooden buildings represent "nearly a century and four generations of family farming in Andover."

The warrant article called for rezoning a triangular-shaped parcel at the junction of old and new River Roads from Industrial D to Industrial G, a less restrictive zone. The Historic Commission hoped that the rezoning would interest a buyer in moving the farm buildings onto the small parcel, because more uses would be allowed under I-G zoning.

Allen called it "essential that these historic buildings be preserved on Shattuck land." The land they now stand on belongs to Digital Equipment Corp., which has no use for the buildings. Arkwright-Boston, owners of the parcel and the buildings, has indicated that it may have to demolish the

Inlaw Apartments OK

Four fairly straightforward articles were among the items that won voters' approval with little debate Tuesday night, during the first session of an annual town meeting that was for the most part quiet and offered few surprises.

An amendment to the zoning bylaw that will allow "in-law" apartments in single-family homes was approved under Article 18. The article, which had the support of both the selectmen and Planning Board, will allow such apartments for ill or disabled relatives, with a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Planning Board Chairman Frank McBride explained that the special permit process would give the town control over in-law apartments, and allow the town to set a five-year time limit on the permits.

Voters also approved a new bylaw prohibiting drivers from parking in parking spaces designated handicapped spaces under Article 7. Police officers will be authorized to ticket cars without the handicapped symbol on their license plates, and fines will be established by the district court.

Sandra Chateaufort of Prospect Road, a member of the architectural barriers committee, expressed some fear that handicapped drivers who have the handicapped symbol on stickers on their car windows, rather than on their license plates, might be ticketed.

But Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark replied that police officers would "exercise appropriate discretion" when ticketing cars, even though the cars legally must have the symbol on their license plates.

Article 5, accepting an eight-inch sewer line in River Road that serves the West Andover Industrial Tech Park, was approved at the recommendation of the selectmen and planners. Planner Jack Tomlinson explained that the line was built to town specifications and is in accordance with the town's master sewer plan. The manager called acceptance of the article "a formality."

And town meeting approved an article that may cost some voters more money: By approving Article 4, they accepted increased town clerk's fees. The fee increases for such legal papers as birth certificates, marriage licenses and voter registration cards were recently suggested by the statewide town clerks' association to increase revenues and make the fees uniform throughout the state.

One voter complained that the article was a "nickel and dime" issue that should not have to come before town meeting and would "bind the town into dollar fees that seem unnecessary." But the manager explained that state statutes require town meeting to adopt the new fees.

The program, designed for classroom teachers, reading specialists, supervisors and administrators, will focus on reading instruction through lectures, discussions and workshop periods.

Abramson Honored For Service

Former Selectmen Chairman James Abramson made his way to the Memorial Hall Auditorium stage from the only Tuesday night to accept a plaque honoring him for his service to town. Abramson chose not to run for reelection this year after three years on the board.

Chairman Norma Gammon made the presentation, thanking the former official for his "tireless efforts for the town of Andover and your dedication."

"I really thought they'd do this on Founder's Day," the surprised Abramson responded before returning to his place among the voters.

Town Meeting Resumes Monday

The first session of the annual town meeting adjourned until 7:30 p.m. Monday night, after voters acted on 26 articles from the 85 article warrant Tuesday night at Memorial Hall Auditorium.

Town officials hope to wrap up the warrant in four sessions. Sessions are now scheduled for Monday and Tuesday night next week, and Monday, June 8, when a special town meeting will be called within the regular meeting for consideration of the school building program budget.

The Routine: Warm But Approving

Town Moderator James Doherty gave the 1981 Annual Town Meeting to start at 7:40 Tuesday night in a very full Memorial Hall Auditorium, the voters quickly took care of several routine warrant articles. Approved were Article 1, electing Edwin Riedel as trustee of the Cornell Farm; and Article 2, approving annual salaries of $100 for the moderator, $800 for the selectmen, and $1,000 for the town chairman. Voters also approved Article 3, removing the positions of plumbing and gas inspectors and sealer of weights and measures from civil service.

Article 10, correcting an error in the zoning bylaw that prohibited certain business uses in the general business zone, was also approved by voters.

An in the final action of the evening before the meeting adjourned shortly after 10 p.m., voters approved Article 26, authorizing town officials to apply for and accept state and federal grants.

One Easement Approved; Another Denied

Voters went along with the recommendation of town officials Tuesday night and approved an easement through Conservation Commission land owned by Carmelina and Richard Grieco under Article 8.

The utility easement will allow developers of the Andover Country Club to proceed with the development with significantly less land disturbance. Planning Board member Andrew Girdle explained.

Neighborhood resident John Grasso did not fare as well with his request for an easement so he could build a fence between his property and the shore of Hussey's Pond.

Selectmen recommended approval because Grasso often finds trespassers on his property, but the request (Article 9) was defeated after the Conservation Commission and Planning Board recommended disapproval.

Chairman Robert Pustell of the Conservation Commission explained that it would "establish a very poor precedent by authorizing fences on public land for private purposes."

Carillon Recital Sunday

A recital on the 37-bell Samuel Lester Fuller carillon in Memorial Tower will be given by James E. Mrose, Jr. '82 on Sunday, May 31, at 4:30 p.m. The program, which will be given rain or shine, will include original compositions for carillon, transcriptions and arrangements of familiar music.

Mrose is an Upper Middler at Phillips, and was the recipient of the Fuller Carillon Prize in June 1980. Featured in Sunday's program will be three of his own original carillon compositions and two transcriptions by him.

The public is invited to Sunday's recital free of charge. Bring blankets, lawn chairs and snack. Printed programs and brochures about the carillon will be available in the stand near the tower door.

Choral Society In Concert

The Andover Choral Society will present Mendelssohn's "Hear Our Prayer" and Mozart's "Requiem," Sunday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. at First Calvary Baptist Church, Lawrence.

Soloists will be: Margaret Thomson and Nancy Collins, sopranos; Andrea Atwood, alto; Dr. Santo Cartadella, baritone; Richard Wall, tenor; directed by Dr. J. Everett Collins, accompanied by Maxine Calt, pianist, and Donald Kessler, organist.

Favorable Mood For Windmills, Towers

Town meeting voters Tuesday night decided that amateur radio towers and windmills in Andover are all right with them, as long as they are governed by two "restrictive" amendments to the zoning by-law presented on the annual warrant.

Townpeople voted in favor of the radio tower bylaw, Article 16, with a standing vote of 355 to 112, and voted unanimously in favor of the wind tower bylaw, Article 15.

The windmill article encountered no opposition. Edward Johanson of Rocky Hill Road, a member of the tower study committee that developed the bylaw, explained that under the amendment, wind towers would be safe, and would not cause noise or television interference problems.

"There will not be a proliferation of wind machines," he predicted, "because they are too expensive, and only a few lots in town will qualify." The bylaw stipulates that lot line setbacks must equal the height of the wind tower.

Planning Board member David Gravalles urged voters to support the article, calling it "extremely restrictive".

Article 16 ran into a bit of static from radio buffs, even though James Fisk of High Plain Road, another member of the tower study committee, said it was "essentially the same as Article 15," and Gravalles recommended its approval for the same reason.

The article requires residents to hold a valid Federal Communications Commission (FCC) license before they may erect radio towers.

John Dowrick of Prospect Street said the radio bylaw included "several defects" and discriminated against some tower users, calling it "a leash law of an electronic nature" — which drew a laugh from the crowd.

Edwin Fleishcher of Yale Road agreed that the amendment was "discriminatory," and said he believed it was inconsistent with FCC regulations.

But Clyde Brunquell of Mill Stone Circle, a tower committee member, replied that the law is not discriminatory: "It includes all kinds of antennas," he maintained. "This is an antenna bill, and it is restrictive to prevent the proliferation of antennas."

And Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that the bylaw had been reviewed by the FCC, which had "approved it as to form." Town Counsel Alfred Daniels added that in his opinion, the bylaw is not illegal — explaining that it would be struck down by the state attorney general if he finds it illegal.

Both articles require Zoning Board of Appeals permits for towers in single residence and industrial D and industrial A zones. Towers will not be permitted in apartment, office park, general business or industrial G zones. The bylaws also regulate the size, design, operation and maintenance of towers.

Never Kennelled Your Dog Before????

A personal consultation will calm your fears and your dog will enjoy his stay while you enjoy your vacation.

"About 1965 I went in search of a place to board my 3 dogs. I didn't want them in a hospital — or a cage — most kennels caged their dogs and conditions were repulsive to me. I cancelled my vacation. I had a small building that I converted with "stalls and runs." Cost (those days) $800.00 — capacity 11 dogs. I put in this building what I wanted my own dogs to have. That was the beginning of TEE-EMM'S KENNEL. Capacity now 513 Dogs and Cats (separate floors). We are now putting up a new modern building (our 5th) that will be completed this spring — it will be SUPER BEAUTIFUL. We are indeed very proud of it and a dream has come true."

Farms' Purchase Supported

A batch of Conservation Commission articles slated to come before town meeting next week have won the selectmen's support, with some reservation on one.

The selectmen last Wednesday night voted to approve Articles 55 and 56, which would authorize the town to buy part of the development rights to two town farms.

Under those articles, the town would join the state in buying the development rights to the Dargoonian farm in West Andover and the Turner farm on South Main Street. By purchasing the development rights, the town and state would make the farms more affordable for farmers — in most cases, farmers could not afford to pay what a developer could for land — and would protect the land from any future development.

State officials have not set a price on the Turner farm rights, but Article 56 sets a ceiling of $100,000 or 50 percent on the town's share of the development rights.

While the board voted unanimously to support the Turner farm article, they also voted to lower that ceiling to $50,000, as moved by Selectman Susan Poore.

The selectmen agreed with the conservation commission and state officials that the Dargoonian farm, Article 55, deserves higher priority than the Turner farm because it is a functioning farm that contributes to the state's agricultural production. For that reason, the state may be willing to charge the town for a smaller share of the rights.

Turner farm, on the other hand, is a defunct apple orchard that would need some time before it would be productive again.

The board also voted to support two more conservation commission articles. Article 53 proposes that the town swap town-owned land near Ballardvale known as the "tea lots" for 45 acres of land on Pole Hill in Ballardvale, owned by developer Arthur Kalogianis of T.D.J. Development Corp.

Article 54 authorizes the town to purchase the same land.

The developer currently plans to build on Pole Hill, but Margaret Keck of the Andover Village Improvement Society (AVIS), a former Planning Board chairman, told the selectmen the hilly, wooded land should remain undeveloped.

The tea lots would support fewer houses, Keck said — approximately 30, compared to 68 on Pole Hill — and the extensive gravel removal required to develop Pole

Hill would be unnecessary there.

The land consists of "handkerchief-sized lots" too small to build on that were acquired by the town by eminent domain years ago, Keck explained; they are called the tea lots because they were originally given away as part of a tea company's promotion.

Elderly Offered "Reassurance"

The newest volunteer service offered by the Andover Council on Aging is of special interest to those elderly persons, handicapped persons, or chronically ill persons in Andover who are living alone.

The service is called the Telephone Reassurance Program and its goal is to encourage handicapped and elderly people to continue living alone without fear and anxiety over a possible fall or sudden illness (e.g. heart attack). The plan is very simple: a volunteer caller agrees to telephone the individual who lives alone every day at the same time—failure to answer the phone, after a set number of rings, puts in motion an emergency arrangement in cooperation with a neighbor or relative who has a key to the house, and with the police and fire departments, if required.

The positive off-shoots of the program are many. Frequently the persons it serves are lonely and depressed because of being alone day after day. The awareness that the phone will ring daily is much more than a safety check. That ring means contact with the outside world; it means the sound from a friendly voice; it means the knowledge that someone cares.

Relatives of elderly townspeople who live alone may make use of the Telephone Reassurance Program when they go away on vacation and friends and relatives of the disabled and elderly may also call from out of town to ask that Telephone Reassurance be set up for those they love who live in Andover.

Anyone interested in learning more about the service may telephone Mrs. Gwen Smith (470-0870), coordinator of the program.

Rosie, The Riveter Film

The award-winning motion picture, "The Life and Times of Rosie, the Riveter," a 65-minute documentary about women working in heavy industry during World War II, will be shown Saturday evening, June 6, at 8:30 p.m. in Wentworth Institute of Technology's Watson Auditorium, 550 Huntington Ave., Boston.

This benefit performance of this film dealing with women who replaced men in war plants and shipyards is sponsored by The Network of Women in Trade and Technical Jobs, a non-profit organization supporting women in non-traditional jobs through training and placement. The purpose of the organization is to increase the awareness of women of the opportunities in non-traditional jobs.

The Galapagos Islands west of Ecuador were named for the "galapago," Spanish for "tortoise," because of the 200-pound tortoises found there that could carry the weight of a man.

Chorus In Concert Tour

The North Parrish Treble Chorus, composed of 45 area children, will be on its Western Massachusetts concert tour forming at the Berkshire Museum on day, May 29. The six-year-old chorus of children 8-14 has given over 40 concerts in Greater Boston environs including appearances on "Show of Faith" and Iron King's "Woman '79."

The Treble Chorus gives musically talented children an opportunity to improve their skills by making community music a professional level by themselves or in conjunction with the North Parrish Choral Society. The combination of boys and girls changed voices gives the chorus its special tone quality.

Unique to this concert will be the performance of the rarely presented operetta "Let's Build A Town." Written by the famous 20th century composer Paul Hindemith, the operetta has seen few public appearances because it was conceived as a teaching tool. Director of the Treble Chorus Marie Stultz believes so highly in the work that she created a stage play that would assist in making the piece appropriate for public performance. In addition, the concert will include the "Liebeslieder Waltzes" by Brahms and pieces by Faure, Franck, Morley, Purcell, Bartok and Bach.

On Sunday evening, May 31, this same concert will be given at Old North Church in Marblehead at 7:30 p.m.

Singing with the North Parrish Treble Chorus for the Berkshire tour are the following Andover children: Caelin Graber and Anne Skelton of East Junior High; Deborah Hanscom, Tara Bachner and Frank Padellaro of Bancroft; Hilary Driscoll of South School; Mark Driscoll of Pike School; Sarah Merrill and Sarah Skelton of West Elementary School.

Summer Production Planned

The Andover Community theatre announces its summer production will be "Damn Yankees," the upbeat musical based on Douglass Wallop's book, "The Yankee Who Lost The Pennant." It is the story of a middle-aged real estate man who sells his soul to the devil to see his hometown team, the Washington Senators, win the pennant from the Yankees.

"Honor the Dead by Helping the Living" the slogan of the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars Buddy Poppy sale. Proceeds are used entirely for the welfare of disabled and needy veterans and the survivors of deceased veterans.

Two well-known songs from the show are "Whatever Lola Wants" and "You've Got To Have Heart." There are parts for one female lead, two male leads, three supporting females, six supporting males, as well as a large number of singers and dancers. A large production crew is also needed. Open auditions on June 1, 3, and 4, at 7 p.m. will be at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street, Andover.

Production dates are Aug. 7, 8, 14, and 15. For further information, contact producer Bill Brackett or director Tom Kirkman.

Voters Correct An Error

Town meeting did a little backtracking Tuesday night, and with a series of votes rescinded an action taken during the 1978 annual meeting that turned out to be a mistake.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels explained that the town took Castle Heights Road and Joyce Terrace by eminent domain three years ago; at the residents' request, improvements were to be made to the streets and funded through betterments assessed against the homeowners.

But through an error, the town took more land than it had intended, Daniels said, which could "increase the town's liability and maintenance costs. You are now being asked to rescind the articles which were too broad in scope."

In a cooperative mood as the hour approached 10 p.m., the voters approved Articles 20 through 25, which rescinded the 1978 action, acquired the streets again, accepted the streets, and assessed the betterments.

One Castle Heights Road resident opposed the articles: Edward Bodenrader said he has two suits now pending in Superior Court against the town for damages incurred after the taking. "Let the court decide," he urged the voters.

Bodenrader, who said he opposed the land taking three years ago, said the town wanted to change its 1978 action because the land includes a wall that is "now in danger of collapse."

But other residents spoke in favor of the articles, including Daniel Frishman of Castle Heights Road. "That wall is 60 or 70 years old — that wall will never collapse," he said. "But that is a side issue. There are 12 families willing to pay for the betterments. We need the roads. The issue is much simpler than it sounds."

Maurice Schwartz of Timothy Drive added his agreement. "Get rid of the wall — let's fix the roads. Then something will get done."

Minutes later, as voters left Memorial Hall auditorium after the votes had been taken, one man was heard predicting the Castle Heights wall would become Andover's newest tourist attraction. "I know I'm going to take a ride up to see it tomorrow," he quipped.

Earlier in the meeting, in a more routine action, voters accepted four streets as public ways at the recommendation of the selectmen and Planning Board. The accepted streets were Alderbrook Road, Countryside Way, Lavender Hill Lane, and Peach Tree Path.

Maintenance Report Withdrawn

13 THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 28, 1981

Town meeting will not be asked to vote on a central maintenance report next week because the selectmen have decided the town manager and school superintendent's report on the subject needs more work.

The manager suggested the administrators may need clearer guidelines from the central maintenance subcommittee, made up of selectmen, finance committee and school committee members, on what the central maintenance concept should be.

Last year, town meeting authorized town officials to study the possibility of centralizing maintenance services for the town and schools. Some services are already shared, such as maintenance of playing fields and central purchasing.

But the report recently submitted by Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark and School Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert concludes that Plant Engineer Alfred Hart, hired in 1976, should continue to supervise the maintenance of both town and school properties. Selectman Susan Poore, a member of the central maintenance subcommittee, said the idea behind the study was "to move ahead from the status quo, not keep it."

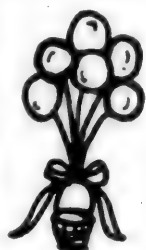

Poore added that the subcommittee had not had time to review the report, saying she was "somewhat distressed that we got the report at this late date. I could not accept or support this report at this time."

Selectman Edward Harris moved to withdraw Article 64, which asks voter approval of the report, because there is "further work to be done" on the report. "Current maintenance is sub-par — it is not what it ought to be," Harris explained, citing the leaking roof at South School. Selectman Jerry Silverman agreed, but added that town officials may have to adopt a new attitude toward maintenance costs.

"The Finance Committee for years has always taken the attitude of cut, cut to keep the town and school budgets down," he noted. "It's always been easier to clip money out of maintenance, because no one comes running in and says, 'I want that roof.' But they will say, 'I want hockey,' or other things."

"Some day," the selectman warned, "the whole thing is going to collapse."

Bon Secours Licensed For Newborn Care

Bon Secours Hospital was recently licensed by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health for its high-level of newborn care provided through its newly renovated special care nursery, a facility specifically designed to accommodate advanced care techniques.

"The special care nursery provides high-level medical care for newborns that are considered 'high risk' or in need of acute care," explains Janet Johnston, R.N., Bon Secours Hospital's Maternal and Child Health coordinator. Special care ranges from close observation of apparently well infants who may not require therapy but who are at risk of serious illness, to intensive treatment of infants whose survival is in doubt. An infant at risk may be one that is born prematurely, shows signs of cardiac problems, or has respiratory difficulties. These and other signs activate a team of pediatricians and specially trained and certified neonatal nurses in the special care unit, to respond effectively to the infant's needs.

While the infant remains in this unit, the parents are strongly encouraged to visit and maintain parent/infant bonding as part of the hospital's family centered care program. The nurse familiarizes the parents with their child's specific treatment procedures, answers any questions they might have, and supports them in overcoming problems of separation. Often this support is continued after the infant has been sent home.

The Bon Secours Hospital special care nursery is equipped with sophisticated instruments including cardiac and respiratory monitors, a neonatal platform used to facilitate testing procedures, such as x-rays and respiratory therapy, and water beds containing rhythmic wave stimulators used to reinforce normal breathing patterns in premature infants.

The nursery also houses a specially designed infant care system which conserves body heat and allows easy access for treatment and care of sick infants, and a recently acquired monitor which measures the level of oxygen in the infants blood stream through a non-invasive method. This equipment and a specially trained staff allows Bon Secours Hospital to respond to the acute needs of high-risk infants who otherwise would have to be transferred to intensive care facilities which may be located far from home.

Americans spend about 35 percent of their total food dollar on eating out.

Summer Series To Open

The summer series of organ recitals at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall will open with James Taylor on Wednesday, June 3, at 8:30 p.m.

For his program Taylor has selected: Suite Medievale - Jean Langlais; Cortege et Litanie, Op. 19, No. 2 - Marcel Dupre; Prelude, Adagio et Coral Varie sur le theme du Veni Creator, Op. 4 - Maurice Durufle; and Three Pieces: Salve regina, Op. 13, No. 2; Adagio, Op. 42, No. 5; Allegro, Op. 42, No. 6 - Charles-Marie Widor.

Taylor is director of music and organist at St. John's Episcopal Church and St. John's School in Tampa, Fla., where he maintains an extensive choral program centered around a professional choir of men and boys, and administers a concert and recital series. A native of San Francisco, he studied at the University of California at Berkeley. He received the degrees Mus.B and Mus.M. and has done several years post graduate work at Boston University, where he studied with George Faxon, Theodore Marier and Max Miller. Previous to his appointment in Florida, he was music director at Christ Church, Fitchburg, and at St. James' Church, West Hartford, CT.

The grand pipe organ, of nearly 6,000 pipes, was built originally by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, Germany, for the Boston Music Hall. The only pipe organ to include a building, designed and built especially to display and support its performance, it is today irreplaceable.

The Music Hall is located on Broadway

(Route 28) in Methuen, and offstreet parking is provided beside the building.

Organist Paul-Martin Maki will perform at the Music Hall on July 10.

Americans donated $39.6 billion to charitable causes in 1978 - more than double the amount given in 1968.

Andover Pays Tribute

17 THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 28, 1981

Memorializing the efforts of the veteran dead of all wars to bring peace to our world, Capt. George Street, Congressional Medal of Honor holder, told Andover participants in Memorial Day exercises that the effort continues even in modern times.

Street, a U.S. Naval veteran, spoke of the continuing effort and sacrifice made in the quest for a peaceful world, citing modern problems, such as the Hostage Crisis in Iran, and the continuing efforts of the United Nations to provide peaceful solutions to world problems.

Capt. Street was the speaker at the principal ceremonies held at Memorial Auditorium as part of Andover's Memorial Day observance including a parade which was preceded by special services by veterans groups at town cemeteries.

Led by the Andover Police marching unit and color guard, the parade stepped off promptly at 9:30 and proceeded to the auditorium via Main street and Chestnut street. Parade participants included divisions from the U.S. Army reserve and Fort Devens, as well as U.S. Naval Reserve units. Andover veterans organization were joined by Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, fraternal organizations, Andover officials and Parade Marshalls John Lewis, Patrick Flynn, and Clarence Johnson who make up the town's patriotic holiday committee.

In addition to the Andover High School band, the elementary schools band, the Clan McPherson and Lawrence Musicians' Union bands provided the accompaniment for the marchers.

Commander Clarence Johnson of American Legion Post 8 was master of ceremonies for the principal services at the auditorium. Rev. Dr. westy Egmont, pastor of South Church gave the invocation and benediction. Chairman Joseph A. Finn of the school committee delivered the eulogy and Cynthia Stanwood, representing the girl Scouts, recited "In Flanders Field."

Following musical selections, the delivering of The Gettysburg Address by Peter Larsen, representing the Boy Scouts and Capt. Street's address, memorial wreaths were placed by Anita Jerackes and Virginia Flynn of Post 2128, VFW Auxiliary. Taps and echo by Robert McKinley and Mark Haddad concluded the ceremonies.

Participants in services at veterans lots in Andover cemeteries prior to the parade were Johnson, Flynn, Rev. Dr. Egmont and Rev. Joseph A. Keffer, OSA, pastor of St. Augustine's parish, along with members of both the Legion and VFW posts from Andover.

Parents should be on the lookout for "stamps" such as these which are being sold in some parts of the state and have appeared in Andover. The stamps, containing a picture of Goofy, a Walt Disney character, also contain LSD which can be picked up simply by handling or licking them. Andover police recently picked up a man who had 97 of the stamps in his possession.

Outdoor Concert At Academy

On Sunday, May 31, at 3 p.m. the Phillips Academy Concert Band, Richard Wilson, director, will present an outdoor concert on the steps of Samuel Phillips Hall, under the elms at the center of the academy campus.

The program is a varied one, with something to please many tastes. Dvorak's New World Symphony "Finale" and two movements from William Byrd Suite, arranged from music of that renaissance English composer by Gordon Jacob, will be the major works for full band on the Musical

"Everything Goes: A Musical Romp Through the 30s," will be presented by The Theatre of Newburyport at the Nock Middle School on Saturday, June 13, at 8 p.m.

The evening's performance is being sponsored by the Society for the Development of Arts and Humanities of Greater Newburyport.

program. A smaller ensemble will play the "Overture" and "March" from the vigorous and brilliant Suite: Good Soldier Schweik by Robert Kurka.

Eric Thomas, a Boston-based free lance musician and teacher at the academy, will be the featured soloist in Sammy Nestico's Persuasion, for alto saxophone and band. The influence of jazz, felt in Persuasion, will be equally felt in Eubie Blake's famous and fantastic Charleston Rag, performed by a dozen players in an arrangement by Gunther Schuller.

Two marches, "El Capitan" by John Phillips Sousa, and "Block M" by Jerry Bilik, will complete the program which is free and open to the public. Listeners should bring their own blanket or chair. In case of rain, the concert will move indoors to the Cochran Chapel.

Kaleidoscope Program Offers Summer Courses

19 THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 28, 1981

This summer, during the week of August 3-7, children from pre-kindergarten to grade 6 have an opportunity to participate in "Kaleidoscope" enrichment courses.

A child may register for one course only and will spend each morning that week (from 9 - 11:30 a.m.) involved with a specialist in that field. Thus, an 11-hour course is compressed into a one-week time span, allowing the student to become totally immersed in the subject of his or her choice. Class size will be from 10-15 students.

The offerings include: "Beyond Computation," a math enrichment course which will include the use of an Apple computer (grades 5-6); "Design," an art course employing a broad range of media (grades 4-6); "Nature's Classroom," an environmental studies course (grades 4-6); "Summersong," for those who love to sing (grades 5-6); "Creative Writing Happening," oral and written creative expression (grades 5-6); "Chisanbop," Korean finger mathematics (grades 4-6); "Spin Some Yarns," weaving instruction offered at the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum (grades 5-6); "Story Theater," including theater games, skits, improvisation and movement (grades 3-4); "Art and Drama," inter-related activities in art and drama (grades K-1); "Backyard Adventures," outdoor experiences with classroom followup (grades K-1); "Flights into Fantasy," an assortment of mini-themes for children who will enter kindergarten this fall. All grades refer to current grade levels.

Kaleidoscope's director, Janis R. Baron, who is coordinator of Andover's Gifted and Talented Program, feels that many children will welcome the opportunity for a creative learning experience this summer. She also envisions these courses as an alternative to many other summer offerings where children are offered a wide variety of activities each day. The children who take a Kaleidoscope course will specialize in an area of strong interest and pursue that topic in-depth.

Kaleidoscope courses will be offered in cooperation with the Andover Department of Community Services and will be explained in more detail in the Summer Bulletin mailed to all Andover homes in June. In addition, Kaleidoscope will publish its own brochure, which will give course descriptions, as well as background information about each instructor. This brochure will be available in two weeks; notices will be sent home with elementary school children at that time. Non-residents may obtain a brochure from the Department of Community Services at Doherty School after May 18.

Registration will be held in conjunction with the Department of Community Services' registration on June 17 from 7-8:30 p.m. at East Junior High School. Spaces will be filled on a first come-first served basis.

Any questions regarding Kaleidoscope courses may be addressed to: Kaleidoscope, Box 506, Andover, MA 01810.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Newell III

Newell—O'Neil

At home in Pocasset are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Newell III, who were married April 25 at St. John the Evangelist Church in that community.

The bride is the former Barbara A. O'Neil, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth F. O'Neil of Pocasset; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Newell, Jr., 62 Walnut Ave., Andover.

The Rev. James Clark officiated at the 10:30 a.m. ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles P. O'Neil.

She wore a white jersey gown with Queen Ann neckline, bishop sleeves of point d'esprit, and bodice embellished with silk Venice lace. The controlled skirt terminated in a chapel train bordered in Venice lace, and her fingertip veil of double illusion fell from a cap of silk Venice lace. She carried a bouquet of white and pink tea roses with baby breath and silk greenery.

Virginia E. O'Neil of Guilford, Conn., attended her sister as maid of honor, wearing a gown of dusty pink jersey with bateau neckline, which fell into a cascading cape bordered in Nottingham lace, and a pleated skirt. Wearing a matching gown was the flower girl, the bride's niece, Melanie A. O'Neil of Bourne.

Mrs. O'Neil chose a navy jersey gown with handpainted chiffon overlay for her daughter's wedding, while the groom's mother wore ice blue quiana with a matching ice blue chiffon coat.

Dann S. Blackwood of Falmouth served as best man, and ushers were Francis A. O'Neil of Bourne, the bride's brother, and Walter G. Scott of Brockton.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Coonamessett Inn in Falmouth, and the couple took a wedding trip to Nantucket.

The new Mrs. Newell attended Chandler School in Boston, and is presently attending Cape Cod Community College. She is a secretary at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

Her husband attended the University of Colorado in Denver, and is a warehouse supervisor for the U.S. Geological Survey.

Simmons Club Elects

The annual dinner meeting of the Merrimack Valley Simmons Club was held Tuesday evening, May 19, at the Lanam Club in Andover.

Annual reports were given and officers for the 1981-82 season were elected as follows: president, Margaret Roberts; vice president, Barbara Parkhurst; corresponding secretary, Bernice Sherburne; recording secretary, Marjorie Wallace; treasurer, Shirley Hardy; and directors, Augusta Flanders and Mabel Gibson.

The speaker for the evening was Dr. Henry Halko, chairman of the history department at Simmons College, who discussed Salem witches, who, according to Dr. Halko, were really Danvers witches, since the events took place in Salem Village which eventually became Danvers, rather than in the town of Salem.

It was announced that Barbara Parkhurst had been selected by Simmons to be the alumnae member of the corporation. The new season will open Thursday, Sept. 24, with the annual pot luck supper to be held at the home of president, Margaret Roberts in Andover.

How-To-Study Course Offered At YMCA

THE TOWNSMAN, MAY 28, 1981

How do you study in college?

That's a question that has posed problems and caused complications for many bright, but unprepared, persons struggling to make the adjustment to the campus experience.

More than 50,000 college-bound high school graduates have gotten the answer to the question, and a headstart on their peers, by enrollment in the "How to Study in College" course developed by two Purdue University professors, Robert F. Schwarz and the late H.D. Murdock.

This popular one-week, four-evening course will be offered this summer by the Andover-North Andover YMCA, at a location to be announced at a later date. Bob Lavoie said the course provides useful, practical answers to such questions as: Where's the best place to sit in a lecture? What's the one technique that will make you the first one to complete laboratory projects? What two simple study techniques will almost guarantee one letter grade higher in every course? What one idea can make it possible to study a textbook 24 percent faster? When is studying with the radio on a good idea? What is the secret to not being up-tight during an exam? What is the easy way to write the first draft of a term paper?

Topics in the series of lectures include how students learn, why they forget, the art of listening, how to take usable lecture notes, motivation for maximum performance in college, how to plan study time, a basic study formula, techniques of review, preparing for and taking tests and examinations, how to use a college library, what every student needs to know about each course and its professor, and personal problems and adjustment to college living.

"How to Study in College" has been offered at YMCAs throughout the United States since 1963. It also is offered at all Purdue campuses each summer.

"We are presenting the course this summer," said Lavoie, "because we believe it will give students from our area about to enter college the knowhow, the confidence and the good habits that will enable them to make the transition smoothly and successfully."

Graduating seniors or those who already have high school diplomas and are about to enter college may reserve a place in the course and obtain additional information by visiting the YMCA or by telephoning 685-3541.

The course will be presented from July 27 to 30. Classes meet from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday

WESTern Roundup

By Mary Driscoll and Kathy Mulvey

The Annual Barbeque and Open House was held on Thursday, May 21. The Sweeny courtyard was converted into a dining hall for this event and the auditorium became Paradise Theatre.

Parents and friends alike were invited to travel through the museum of displays created by the students of West. A blood pressure clinic run by the freshman biology class, a variety of foreign language displays, a typing contest, and a Roman banquet were just a few of the events included in the program. Students, friends and family were welcomed to join in the cross country run while Kathy Nolin, Chris Buckley, Chery Brouillard and Lisa Tyson read their original works and projects were on display in the industrial art, cooking and sewing rooms.

Special Westy Awards were presented to students for their work in the English, industrial arts, mathematics and typing departments. The melodrama, "Saga of Katy and the Gambler Lady," was presented by the West Side Players under the direction of Doris Bernardin. A musical presentation followed the drama. The band, under the direction of Alfio Gracef-fa, the recorders, coordinated by Linda Roby, and the various choral groups, organized by Keith Gould, assisted by David Hudson, made the musical side of the program a success.

Many soloists and duets also entertained the audience with western songs, country-western ballads and tunes from "Annie Get Your Gun." Karen Santigarti, Susan Burke, Debbie Bartle, Wendy Batten and many others shared their talents with everyone.

The girls track met Tewksberry on Tuesday but unfortunately lost. During that meet, Kathryn Schwarz broke the track record at WJH for the mile with her incredible 5:57 timing. The previous record was 6:00.

Friday morning, May 22, a memorial service was held around the flagpole. The cowboys sang our patriotic tunes and a speech by Mr. Hart was followed by the raising of the flag by class president Maura King, with short readings by fellow students. Tom Lord played taps on his trumpet during the moment of silent meditation accompanied by Dylan Callahan on drums, in commemoration of those who have given their lives for the betterment of our country.

Family Day At Shawsheen

The Shawsheen School P.T.O. has announced plans for a Gala Family Fun Day to be held at the shawsheen school playground on Sunday, June 7, from 1 to 5 p.m.

With the Shawsheen School slated to be closed at the end of the current school year, the P.T.O. hopes that the Family Fun Day will provide an opportunity not only for current students and parents to have a fun-filled afternoon, but anyone who attended the Shawsheen School in its 57-year history.

Families are asked to either bring a picnic lunch or to plan to buy their lunch at the affair. Hot dogs, hamburgs, soft drinks, popcorn and pocket salads will be available at reasonable prices.

Throughout the afternoon there will be individual and family games along with special entertainment attractions. Among the games and contests scheduled are sand castle building, water balloon passing, tug o' war, jump rope contests, basket shooting, relay races and volleyball games.

Of special interest will be a display of Shawsheen School memorabilia spanning the more than half century of the school's existence. Principal Isabelle Dobbie has requested anyone having items related to the school that they would be willing to display, please call her at the school office. She has also contacted several former teachers at the school who have indicated an interest in attending.

He easily won nomination, but was defeated in the general election.

His daughter, Joan Simpson of Andover, aptly described her father as "a fabulous character. He had just been puttering around political circles for years.

Pvt. Dion Completes Training

Marine Pvt. Michael R. Dion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dion, 31A Francis St., North Andover, has completed the infantry combat training course at the Infantry Training School, located at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C.

The four-week course was designed to prepare him for future duty with a Marine shore party unit. Shore party units set up beachhead supply areas during amphibious operations.

He received instruction and practical experience in loading and unloading helicopters, vehicles and landing craft; electronic and visual methods for guiding helicopter landings, and preparation of helicopter landing sites.

In 1945 Massachusetts had 35,000 farmers working 2 million acres of land. Land has been brought up and developed since then so that now 4,000 farmers work 300,000 acres. This state spends yearly $3 billion to import 90 percent of its food from other states.

Don't Knock It

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

As I read your "Poorely-Byrned" editorial of May 21, I was reminded of my favorite addage—"No good deed goes unpunished." Obviously taking a large chunk of time out of your life to hold public office falls in this category. I can imagine the long lines of candidates fighting for this opportunity next town election. At the same time I look forward to your annual editorial, decrying the public's apathy and its unwillingness to serve. The more things change, the more they stay the same.

Certainly I would never contest your right to disagree with the position of any public official. It is the way in which it was done to which I take great exception. Anyone who attended the meeting of May 18 should have concluded that rather than a Machiavellian plot underfoot, there was a very real concern for a $3,000,000 override, and an enormous concern as to how to respond to it. The facts weren't all in, midnight had already struck, and there was understandable confusion as to the best answer to a complicated problem on very short notice. Forty-eight hours later, with more time and information, the board voted 5-0 to insert a $2,000,000 article.

I have worked with Donn Byrne and Susan Poore for a number of years, and know them to be hard-working, hard-nosed public officials who care a lot about Andover and give a tremendous amount of time to it. Don't knock it — it doesn't grow on trees!

Concerned About Digital

Attention, Residents of Andover:

Are you aware that Digital Equipment Corporation would like to purchase 140 acres of land for a manufacturing plant and warehouse in the area of Dascomb Road and I 93, and that the land must be rezoned from residential to industrial before such a move can be made? The idea is initially appealing, for industrial development brings added revenue. However, upon closer scrutiny, Andover residents will learn of potential drawbacks. What effect will the DEC plant have on the quality of life in Andover?

1. A master plan of Andover has been carefully drawn up, designating certain areas of our town as residential, and certain areas as industrial. Why should we alter this plan now? Are we contemplating this spot zoning for the benefit of DEC, or Mr. Yvon Cormier, the owner of the land (certain to benefit financially far more from industry than residences), or for the residents of Andover? If we spot zone now from residential to industrial, do we not set a precedent for future spot zoning? Where will the issue come up next? Is there not a residential character to our town we would like to preserve?

2. If this land is rezoned, there will soon be a large industrial center in the front (or back) yards of a sizeable, well-populated area. Digital has acknowledged 5000 added auto and truck trips per day in this area, and presented a plan to add four traffic lights to deal with the traffic. Is it fair to these families who purchased property in a residential area to suddenly be thrust less than ¼ mile from a busy, industrial development? Most importantly, due to Proposition 2½, children in the area will no longer be bused to school. An extremely dangerous situation will be created by the added traffic on Dascomb Road.

3. How will other Andover residents be affected? Any driver who takes I 93, North or South, at Dascomb or Frontage Roads (the street off of Dascomb) at peak hours, as well as travelers of I 93 at Route 133, will meet congestion. Five thousand added vehicular trips in and out of a Digital plant directly across from Route 93 will affect more than immediate-area residents.

I ask you to address the point of view against rezoning. Digital has stated that no new jobs will be added. Some additional tax revenue will be the only benefit. What will this revenue mean in perspective? Do we really believe that our real estate taxes will decrease? The possible savings of a few dollars to each taxpayer in Andover is not worth the change in character of a residential neighborhood.

If you are concerned about the issue, please attend town meeting next week and vote on Article 36.

In Praise Of Andover

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

I have just returned from Nashville after completing my first year of college. There are many lessons I learned and I have grown in many ways, but there is one lesson that is universal with everyone to whom I have spoken. That is how dear home and Andover has become.

High school students describe Andover as boring and forever complain of its lack of amusements. They cannot wait to get out of town and on their own. I was one of these students, but I have learned fast.

Around Thanksgiving, the first time I returned home since August, I caught myself getting excited. Upon my return I drove around to all those familiar spots and caught myself reminiscing about "the good ole days."

At school, I find myself in contests with friends describing the merits of Andover. Of course, Andover always wins: Owensboro, Kentucky, never had a witch hunt and George Washington never visited West Palm Beach. It is funny how quickly eighth grade history comes back to you when you need it. Even Phillips takes on a new importance. You find "everyone" has heard of it.

But more importantly, Andover is home and as a friend once said, "It's a haven to turn to in order to recuperate." It is here that we think of when the pressures of exams and papers become almost unbearable. It is here we come back to for rest from the hectic social life of college and from the world of semi-adulthood.

No matter how much you like school and no matter how many friends you have made there—there is still a need to get home. Home is from whence we get the strength to combat that rough world of books and classes and professors and books. . . and more books.

I would just like to say that it is great to be back in Andover.

Digital Rezoning Backed; Sewer Rejected

The selectmen will support the rezoning of 127 acres of residential land off Frontage Road to industrial zoning, Article 36 on the annual town meeting warrant. They will not, however, come out in favor of amending the master sewer plan and extending the sewer to service the site.

Three board members decided last week that Digital Equipment Corp., which proposes to buy and develop the site, would be a desirable neighbor on the site, at the intersection of Frontage and Dascomb Roads near Route 93.

Only Selectman Susan Poore opposed the rezoning article, citing the traffic problems that may develop in the area. She also pointed out that the town has not seen a purchase and sale agreement between Digital and current owner Yvon Cormier — so there is no guarantee that Digital will actually move in once the land is rezoned.

Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon abstained, due to a potential conflict of interest involving her husband's business.

Poore and Selectmen Donn Byrne, Edward Harris and Jerry Silverman voted not to support Article 37, which calls for amending the master sewer plan to extend the sewer area of the town to include the proposed Digital site.

Harris said he would like to see Digital run its sewer line run through Tewksbury — a suggestion Tewksbury officials may agree to in exchange for the emergency water supply they have requested from Andover.

The board could not reach an agreement on Article 38, which authorizes the construction of a gravity sewer and the taking of easements to serve the site, so they will take no position on that article at town meeting. Poore and Harris voted against the article; Byrne and Silverman, in favor of it.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said Friday Digital officials appear willing to work out an agreement with Tewksbury, but no one is sure yet if that alternative is feasible. Clark said he would recommend that voters support all three articles, because Digital will "walk away" from the proposal if they cannot sewer it.

If the land is rezoned but the sewer plan disapproved, "we are back to dealing with an unknown," the manager said. "We won't know what industry will go there."

He added that the company might then elect to build its plant across the town line in Tewksbury, so that Andover would still end up with the increased traffic neighbors fear, but without the added tax revenues.

Clark emphasized that Digital has not "threatened" Andover with that possibility, but when questioned by the manager admitted they would consider that option.

Digital is currently planning a gravity sewer line to Lowell Junction, with a possible short detour through Tewksbury, to sewer the site.

The selectmen also voted to support Article 39, the rezoning of the Knights of Columbus parcel on Frontage Road from Single Residence C to Industrial D, with a four to one vote: Poore was opposed.

Majority Relents: Allows School Vote

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The selectmen had a change of heart last Wednesday: They voted to call a June 8 special town meeting so voters can consider appropriating an additional $2 million for the $11.72 million school building project.

Two days earlier, three selectmen had voted down a request from the school and school building committees to insert an article appropriating up to $3 million in a special town meeting warrant. The boards asked for the special meeting after they learned bids for the total project to renovate Andover's secondary schools were $1.5 to $3 million over budget.

Selectmen Donn Byrne, Edward Harris and Susan Poore last Monday night voted against inserting the $3 million article in a June 3 special town meeting warrant.

Instead, they inserted an article that would cut portions of the three-part project to bring it down to the $11 million budget authorized by last year's town meeting.

Harris, Jerry Silverman and Chairman Norma Gammon had voted in favor of calling the special town meeting.

Wednesday night, Finance Committee Chairman Ruth Dunbar urged the selectmen to reconsider their vote. She explained that drastic cuts in the project would involve drawing new plans and "sending out the whole deal to bid again" at more cost, with inflation, and nothing to show for it.

Dunbar also explained that school committee members, during a series of telephone calls Wednesday, had agreed to change some educational specifications of the program to cut the needed funds down to $2 million.

The school committeemen decided to eliminate one varsity soccer field at the high school, tennis courts at the Doherty school, to be converted into a junior high school, and $781,000 from the equipment budget. The field and courts were bid as alternates to the basic project.

The committee may also cut a new roof for Doherty from the project, at $120,000, and fund it from the school budget instead.

The state School Building Assistance Bureau (SBAB), which is funding half the project, must approve those changes before the construction contract is awarded.

"They are cutting certain things they certainly didn't want to cut, but that I feel don't affect the quality of the project," Dunbar said. "They have made a really sincere effort to compromise."

The FinComm chairman added that she was "troubled that the townspeople who did vote overwhelmingly for this project would not have a chance to vote for it again."

Chairman Gammon agreed. "My strong conviction is the people in this town should have a chance to vote on this," she said.

Byrne, Harris and Poore then reversed their stands, and the board voted unanimously to call the special meeting on June 8. Voters will be asked to consider two articles: the first calls for the appropriation of the additional funds, and the second authorizes the town to cut portions of the project to keep it within the original $11 million budget.

The selectmen also voted to rescind their original vote, and cancel the June 3 special town meeting.

"People jumped to conclusions and panicked," Selectman Poore commented. "It's unfortunate if people misunderstood our concern."

Byrne said that after talking with the town manager, he was "satisfied" the manager would thoroughly review the contractor's contract for "errors and omissions" so that "this is the final time we hear about this."

And Harris indicated he was concerned that the project planners had not allowed enough "leeway" for inflation in the project budget. The town manager estimated that delays in getting the project out to bid cost $600,000 in inflated bid prices.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said Friday the school committee may have cut the budget a bit too close, by $200,000 to $400,000, "but the decision had to be made in haste," he explained. "I think it'll work out all right — but things will be a little tight."

The equipment budget in particular is now "quite thin," Clark added. If extra funds are left in the 4.5 percent contingency fund, they will be applied to the equipment budget.

The low bidder for the buildings was Peabody Construction Co. at $10,356,435, and Meola Construction Co. for the playing fields, at $478,786.

The Doherty portion of the project came

Andover High Choir At The

Choral Groups Rated Superior

In New Jersey recently "A Fun day With Music" was also a golden day for the Andover A Cappella Choir and Madrigal Singers. The National/International Music Festival sponsored an adjudication—competing against a standard—which was judged by three noted college music professors. Held in conjunction with a trip to Washington, the ceremony was the culminating activity of two years of fund raising and musical preparation.

With a possible score of good, excellent, or superior, both groups, led by Andover's Keith Gould, won the gold medal, a Superior.

Riding on this honor, the group went on to perform, along with the Handbell Choir, on the steps of the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C.

This performance climaxes the year's 20 appearances in a fitting way.

Members of the organization who participated were: Jacqui Ward, Ellen Perry, Amy Crossley, Julie Flaherty, Jennie Rubin, Kim Byrne, Sue George, Janet Perry, Melanie Cassell, Kim Kappeller, Sue Shrestinian, Amy Lowe, Janice Motollo, Cheryl Morse, Donna Connally, Lianne

La Pointe Is Commissioned

Paul G. Lapointe of 18 Topping Road was among 14 men and women who were commissioned second lieutenants in the United States Air Force, during ceremonies for Air Force ROTC Detachment 345 at the University of Lowell Saturday.

Major General David B. Easson, commandant of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, flew to Lowell for the ceremonies, to honor the university detachment for its exceptional growth and achievement.

Official guests at the ceremonies included University President Dr. John B. Duff, Lt. Col. Larry A. Elliot, unit commander, joined Maj. Gen. Easson in presenting the commissioning certificates, and presented the distinguished graduates.

The unit has experienced unprecedented growth under Lt. Col. Elliot's command, and expects to double the number of commissioned cadets by next year and almost quadruple that number by May, 1984. The September enrollment in the program is expected to exceed 200 cadets, ranking the university detachment second among the 32 units in the northeast.

In addition, under Elliot's leadership, participation in "Cross Town" agreements with seven other New England colleges who send students to the University of Lowell for ROTC training has increased dramatically, while retention of University of Lowell students has improved significantly.

Capitol

Receives Bowdoin Award

Cabot Easton, 2 Tobey Lane, Andover, a leader in Bowdoin College alumni affairs since his graduation 33 years ago, received the Alumni Service Award Saturday, May 23. The award, highest honor bestowed by the Bowdoin Alumni Association, was presented to Easton by Eugene A. Waters '59 of Cumberland, Me., retiring president of the Alumni Association and Alumni Council. The presentation was one of the highlights of a Commencement Dinner which honored the college's 176th graduation exercises. Easton, a member of Bowdoin's Class of '48 and a former member of his alma mater's administrative staff, is a special assistant in educational fund raising. He has been an associate director of the Harvard Law School Fund since 1975. Secretary of his Bowdoin class since his senior year, Easton has been a Bowdoin missions aide and was one of the first Bowdoin graduates to volunteer their time and talents to the Bowdoin Alumni Schools and Interviewing Committee (BASIC) more than a decade ago. A class agent in the Bowdoin Alumni Fund from 1971 through 1977, he helped found the Bowdoin Club of York County in 1962, serving as its secretary-treasurer. He is a former president and a current director of the Bowdoin Club of Boston, the nation's largest Bowdoin alumni organization. The Alumni Association told Easton, in a citation, that "more than the offices, more than the titles, more than the evident signs of commitment to your alma mater are the untold hours of quiet work for Bowdoin. To you, with deep affection and thanks, we accord this day our highest honor, the Alumni Service award." A native of Cambridge and former resident of Reading, Easton prepared for college at Melrose High School and received his A.B. degree at Bowdoin in 1948.

He was an accounting supervisor for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Boston and Springfield from 1948 to 1956, except for a three-year period from 1950 to 1953 when he served as a U.S. Army Captain with the Signal Corps in Japan during the Korean War. From 1956 to 1961 Easton was assistant to the vice president at Bowdoin, where his duties involved fund raising and other development matters. For the next six years he was director of college relations at Nasson College in Springvale, Me., serving as that institution's chief development officer. He joined the Harvard University staff in 1967 as assistant director of development for the Harvard Graduate School of Design and was promoted to director in 1968. From 1970 until he was named to his present position, six years ago, he was assistant director of the Harvard Law School Fund.

Digital Should Be Welcomed

Andover voters will have an opportunity at the annual town meeting sessions next week to welcome to the community another industrial neighbor which has already displayed an interest in working with the community.

Digital Equipment Corporation is interested in placing its world field service headquarters on acreage off Dascomb Road.

There are, of course, the usual fears of traffic, encroachment into residential areas, and similar problems which crop up every time an industrial plant is proposed, or a rezoning issue faces the town.

Some of the arguments could be considered valid, if the company involved were not the Digital Corporation and its commitment to the town to work toward relieving such things as traffic problems and the acquisition of additional land, more than it needs, to better buffer the plant from the residential area.

Digital also would like to have the option to tie in to the town's sewer lines.

This may be resolved by the neighboring town of Tewksbury, which would like to develop its own industrial park on Andover's border, and the line to Digital would be an excellent starting point.

DEC intends to install traffic lights, improve the roads and in general take the steps necessary to place their plant on the Dascomb-Frontage road acreage which so aptly suits their needs.

The operation is basically a quiet one. While the plant itself might be large, it will be unobtrusive and hardly present problems to neighbors.

Among major consideration should be the fact that construction of an industrial plant on the property will do little to increase town services, as compared to what could happen if the acreage was turned into single residences over a period of time, which it well could be.

Addition of that plant to the Digital holdings in West Andover will add further to the town's industrial tax base and will just about fill all the town's land available to industrial development.

There will be jobs provided through the addition of this new industry to the area.

An important consideration in all of this is the availability of sufficient land just over the border in Tewksbury, which Digital could acquire and move the development there.

This would leave Andover with the problems and no increased benefit from a quiet, community-minded industry.

While some might give the impression that Andover is an affluent community, it is hardly in the position to turn its back on the offer of an additional boost to its tax base.

And, while we might look toward a decreased tax rate one day with the addition of so much industry in recent years, such questions should wait for another time, while Andover's taxpayers place the welcome mat out for Digital when the questions are reached on the town meeting agenda next week.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — May 1906

A resident of this town was robbed of $180 while in Lowell last Saturday afternoon, by a hackman of that city. The victim was under the influence of liquor at the time and did not know that he had been relieved of the money until a stranger had called the attention of the police to the case.

Dr. G.H. Gilbert is in New Haven, Conn., attending the Jenkins Postgraduate Porcelain school. Porcelain inlay, Crown and Bridge work plays a more important part today in the better class of dental practice than it ever has before.

Formal greetings were exchanged between President Roosevelt and the emperor of China April 17, on the occasion of the opening of the Commercial Pacific Cable office at Shanghai, thus making the first direct cable connection between the United States and Asia. This was the first direct communication ever held between the emperor of China and the president of the United States.

The appeal of the sufferers of San Francisco from the recent earthquake and fire has been heard by Andover citizens and the contributions to date show that the townspeople are willing to do their part to help their unfortunate brothers. Since the beginning contributions have steadily poured in ranging from 25 cents to over $200, amounting to $1489.20.

A meeting was held in the Andover town hall on Wednesday evening in the interest of the Playstead, which was attended by about 12 of Andover's most prominent citizens. The meeting was called jointly by the Park commissioners and a committee representing the Playstead for the purpose of creating a wider interest for the improvement of Andover's playground and to see what plans could be adopted to raise money for the completion of the works there.

50 Years Ago — May 1931

A 38-year-old High street woman pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal keeping with intent to sell when arraigned in District Court Wednesday morning before Associate Justice Albion G. Perce. She was adjudged guilty and a $50 fine was imposed. She was released on bail to appear before U.S. Commissioner Richard B. Walsh in Lowell Thursday afternoon charged with violation of the national prohibition law.

Beginning Friday, May first, the adult department of the Memorial Hall library will be open from 9 in the morning, daily except Sundays and holidays. Although statistics show that of 30 Massachusetts towns with a population from 8100 to 24,000, only three have their public libraries open as many hours as the Memorial Hall already has, and only two of these towns open them for 12 hours daily, the trustees feel that if there is a wish for continuing service in Andover, that service should be provided.

The cost of special subjects in the public schools for the year 1930 amounted to about five and one-half percent of the total sum expended for maintenance of the schools for the year. These subjects include manual training, domestic science, music, drawing and sewing.

The federal government's project for a new post office at Andover, took a forward step last Saturday when announcement was made that the contract for a survey of the site has been awarded to McGrath brothers of the Bay State Building company, Lawrence. The estimate of $350, submitted by the Lawrence firm, was the lowest received in competitive bidding for the job.

A Center street, Ballardvale man was sentenced to 30 days in the house of correction in Andover court Tuesday morning when he was adjudged guilty of neglect of his wife and children. He appealed and was held in bonds of $100 for his appearance at the next session of superior court.

25 Years Ago — May 1956

The Taxpayers association has filed a special article with the selectmen calling for creation of a building committee to handle final plans and construction of the South School. Petitions had been circulated for some time, as members of the association sought the number of signatures required for insertion of an article.

Many residents of the Holt road area attended Monday night's public hearing on Fred Cheever's plans for a subdivision off Holt road. Most questions were concerned with surface drainage problems and septic tank drainage. About 20 30,000 square-foot lots are shown on the plan for development.

The Andover Recreation Committee has decided to hold the postponed Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, May 5, at 2 p.m. in the park. Approximately 20,000 wrapped pieces of candy of various sorts will be scattered broadside in the park for the youngsters to find. There will be 10 special prizes for those finding the lucky pieces.

Members of Andover's four Little League teams were chosen at the player auction April 22. Practice sessions are expected to begin Saturday, with plans now calling for the opening game on May 13.

The school committee and its four consultants went into executive session at last Wednesday night's meeting to discuss something relating to the South School. The press-excluded session was called by Chairman Roy Russell, who said, "I know of no reason why I have to give a reason" when queried as to the meeting's purpose.

10 Years Ago — May 1971

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin made several appointments Monday night with the selectmen's approval. Only new appointees among the group were on the Industrial Development Commission and the Ipswich River Watershed Commission. In the Industrial Commission, Austin named Mrs. George H. Sherrard to a five year term and Dr. Thomas J. Swift to a one year term. Douglas G. Anderson was reappointed to a five-year term.

The town has been guaranteed the federal funds necessary to construct the water treatment plant at Haggett's Pond. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin received the formal notification from HUD Tuesday noon, noting that $1,500,000 is being reserved for the project.

No further headway has been made in the negotiations between the police department and the town, according to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin. A state conciliator has held conferences with both parties, but there has been nothing to report as yet, Austin said. The police have been negotiating for a new contract for several months, much of the problem stemming from days off and vacation provisions in the contract.

Members Named To GOP Group

Several new members were elected to the Andover Republican Town Committee at an April meeting at the Sheraton-Rolling Green in Andover.

Among those elected were Atty. John Bryden, 52 Dascomb Road, Atty. William Melahn, 18 Ballardvale Road, and Louise Hart, 11 Heather Drive.

Also discussed at the meeting was a report on the presidential election written by Harry Axelrod, chairman of the Andover committee, for "Compass 20," a newsletter printed in Winchester, England. In it, Axelrod praised the effort of the Republicans throughout the area who pooled their efforts to insure a Republican victory in November.

ry in November.

Alice Harris, vice-chairman of the Andover committee, announced that the Merrimack Valley Republican Committee will hold a flea market Saturday, June 6, at 311 South Main St., Andover.

In addition, the Women's Republican club will feature William Loeb, publisher of the Manchester Union Leader, at their May 18 dinner at the Commodore Restaurant in Beverly; and the Republican state committee's regional division will host a forum for Republican gubernatorial candidates May 20 at 7:45 p.m. at Joe Binette's in Middleton.

Alternatives For Teachers

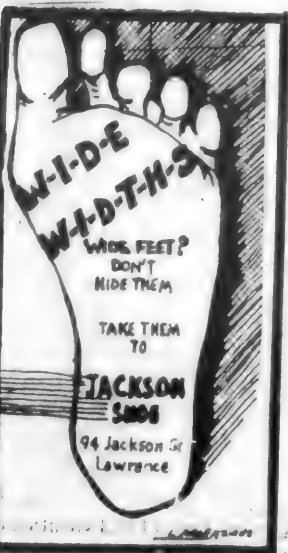

A special one-day conference is being held for teachers and other school personnel who are affected by Proposition 2½. The conference entitled "Alternative Careers for Teachers: Career Options Beyond the Public School" will take place at the Park Tower Motor Inn in Needham Saturday, June 13, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This one-day seminar will introduce school personnel to career options in the private sector. Representatives from the areas of banking, allied health, high technology, manufacturing, energy, insurance and hotels will speak.

The conference is the second planned by the Continuing Education Institute (CEI) of Medford. The director of CEI, Dr. Lloyd David, says that many teachers have approached him inquiring about the various kinds of training programs offered by companies and whether their skills are transferable from teaching children to instructing adults. This conference is designed to provide some of these answers.

Information about the conference has been sent to each public school in the Greater Boston area. Further information is available from CEI, 33 Ship Ave., Medford MA 02155.

JACK ANDERSON AND JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Now oil companies want it both waysBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — There seems to be no limit to the oil companies' greed. The federal government has been more than generous with its tax breaks and research grants to Big Oil. But still the petroleum moguls aren't satisfied.

Oil industry leaders have formed a semiofficial group called the "Energy Task Force." Its mission is to give the Department of Energy justification for policies that will benefit the oil business.

A steady stream of confidential proposals has been flowing from the Energy Task Force to the secretary of energy. The suggestions call for favored tax treatment and still more government subsidies for the oil industry.

A recent confidential letter from a member of the task force directed to Energy Secretary James Edwards, for example, shows what the oil tycoons are up to. The letter is from Ralph Bailey, the chairman of Conoco, a major oil producer. It deals with the search for synthetic fuels as an alternative to imported oil.

Bailey's letter proposes that Uncle Sam provide "financial incentives for the private sector to undertake capital-intensive, high-risk ventures." Specifically, Bailey suggests that corporations which want to manufacture synfuels be given investment tax credits, production credits and depreciation tax credits.

Fair enough. If the oil companies are risking their money in the public interest, perhaps the government should give them a tax break.

But once a synthetic fuel project turns out to be successful, it's a different story. Then, the oil companies want the taxpayers to get out and turn the operation over to what they call "private enterprise."

In other words, as long as there's a risk involved, the oil companies welcome government subsidies. But as soon as it looks as if the project will be a moneymaker, Big Oil wants the government to butt out. The industry doesn't mind government help in the expensive development stages of synfuels. But it suddenly becomes "interference" when it gets to the marketing phase.

They cannot have it both ways. Either the oil companies should stick to "free enterprise" when they're developing synthetic fuels, or they should cut the taxpayers in on the profits when they succeed with the public's help.

A "NEW" HAIG? — President Reagan's most controversial policymaker is Secretary of State Alexander Haig. He's an experienced soldier-statesman who should know his way around the corridors of power. Certainly, he has the brains and guile to be an excellent secretary of state. He's a complex thinker, with a mastery of strategic concept and tactical detail.

But Haig has a martial air about him that tends to raise the hair on the backs of the diplomats' necks. It may be his military manner. He comes on strong, like the four-star general he used to be. He can be arrogant and austere and aloof.

Haig's headstrong views and take-charge ways brought him into an early collision with White House aides. At one point, he told associates angrily that President Reagan had lied to him. Haig even dictated an impulsive letter of resignation.

Later, it took the president 45 minutes, man to man, to settle Haig down. And since he came out of that Oval Office session, Haig has been a different secretary of state.

He handled himself skillfully, for example, on a recent trip to the Middle East. He called together all the American ambassadors on the Arabian peninsula and — according to a confidential record of the meeting — confessed the new administration had been going through "growing pains" and that his own bluntness was largely to blame for the "window rattling." But "the important thing," Haig told the ambassadors, "was to get on with the work."

Back in Washington, Haig attended an off-the-record breakfast with members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He was affable and accommodating, even when the questions got rough. He became a little testy over a question about his support of the military regime in Argentina. But then he relaxed and refused to let the other questions rile him.

One congressman commented afterward that it was a new Al Haig who had testified.

CHEMICAL WARFARE — Our intelligence sources report that Iraq might be using nerve gas in its war with Iran. Secret reports indicate that as many as three dozen Iranian soldiers may have been killed by nerve gas during an Iraqi offensive last January. The Iraqis are known to be stockpiling atropine — the only antidote for nerve gas poisoning.

OLDER AMERICANS MONTH — A few weeks ago, President Reagan signed a proclamation declaring May as Older Americans Month. Then he turned around and announced that he was planning to curtail Social Security benefits to senior citizens.

We hope he doesn't issue a proclamation declaring June as Freedom of the Press month.

WATCH ON WASTE — The Justice Department billed the taxpayers for over $2 million worth of new furniture in 1980. Now an internal Justice Department report reveals that hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of unused furniture is currently gathering dust in high-rent warehouses. ... The federal government recently shelled out $60,000 to determine which typewriter of the highest quality could be purchased for the lowest price. The tests were then pronounced "inconclusive."

AHS Girls Place In State Meet

By Ellen Williams

Bryna Jones won the discus to lead the Warriors to an excellent fifth place finish in the Class A State Meet last week. Peabody won the meet with 50 points, followed by Beverly with 36, Methuen with 35, Needham with 33, and Andover with 31. Davynne Williams, Marsha Cummings, Mary Beth Boland and Barbara Cullinan added to the Warriors success with its first place performance of 51.1.

Williams also placed third in the 100 while teammate Cullinan placed fourth in the 220.

Andover's mile relay team of Kathy Batson, Sue Schwind, Lisa DeLuca and anchorleg Amy Lander finished sixth.

Andover will compete in the league meet Saturday at Haverhill.

Last Saturday the Andover boys track team hosted the State Class A track meet. The Warriors finished a strong sixth place. They tied with Peabody and Newton North with 22 points. The undefeated Chelmsford team won the meet with 68 points.

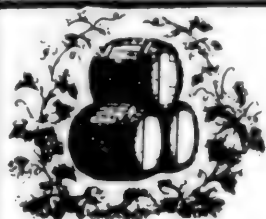

Andover's Lester McKeller jumped 12'6" to capture third place in the pole vault, while teammate Steve Stabile placed fourth.

Bill Foster threw 168'11" to place fourth in the javelin and Kevin Canavan did the same in the 440.

In the triple jump Dave Deloury jumped 41'10 1/2" to finish sixth.

Both relay teams placed. The 4 x 110 relay, which consisted of Jeff Gutterman, Gary Milne, Dave Fluet and Steve Jackson placed fifth while the 4 x 440 team (Kevin Canavan, Wayne Giles, Joe Smith and Steve Smith) placed sixth.

Domestic energy use declined 3.1 percent from January to June 1980 compared with that same period in 1979, the Energy Information Administration reports. With-in that decline, the daily rate of oil consumption declined 8.4 percent, and the production of power by nuclear plants declined 10.5 percent. Increases were: coal 3.7 percent; hydroelectric power, 1.1 percent; and natural gas, 0.3 percent, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

With only ten players on hand and missing their regular goalie, the Andover Stoppers, an under-19 boys' team, won a 3-2 come-from-behind victory over a Newburyport lineup on Sunday. Down by two goals midway through the contest, the Stoppers fought back, tied it up, and then scored the clincher.

Brief results of all the games played last weekend follow:

Under 10 Division Pythons 3 - Bears 3

The Bears held a three-goal advantage at the end of the first two quarters (Steve Sorrie, Andy Tine and Matt Kelly, both on passes from Steve Sorrie). In the third quarter, the spirited Pythons scored twice (Curt Solomon on passes from Alex Egmont and David Tucker) and tied it up in the closing moments of play when they completed a penalty shot (Kurt Brucato) awarded because a fullback touched the ball. BOW: Ed Campbell, Brian MacIntire and Chad Gomes (Pythons) as well as Robby Dawley and Jeff Morneault (Bears).

Bulls 0 - Coyotes 0

Excellent goaltending by David Jaye and George Willard for the Bulls and Brad Reghitto, Paul DeMarco, Jamie Spinelli and Keith Rembisz for the Coyotes denied all shots on the nets and the game ended in a hard-fought 0-0 tie. BOW: Tim Parker, Mike DeMartino and Peter Radulski (Bulls).

Foxes 7 - Bruins 1

The Foxes won a rather lopsided 7-1 victory over a bunch of Bruins who never gave up trying to get on the scoreboard and were successful in the final quarter (Rick Bertetti). Andy Shea scored four goals for the Foxes, one on passes from Dough Rodgers and Billy Henderson; Brent Raftery added two, on a pass from Jason Male; and Randy Ying's solo made it seven. BOW: Billy Hoffman (Foxes) as well as John Bishop and goalie Mike Lebreck (Bruins).

Rams 4 - Cobras 3

The lead flipped back and forth as each team tallied; however, at the final whistle, the Rams had scored four goals (Chris Eggert (2) on passes from Matt Adams and David Wager, Aaron Boutin and Matt Adams on a pass from Aaron Boutin) and the Cobras only three (Ryan O'Leary (2) and Kevin O'Handley) and the Rams were the victors. BOW: Mark Ziady and Kevin O'Handley (Cobras) as well as Joseph DiFraia, Davey Ahouse and Dennis Aikman (Rams).

Wolves 3 - Bucks 1

The Bucks played a spirited first half but good defense held them to one successful shot on the nets (Adam Guild). In the final quarter, the Wolves erupted, tied it up and tallied two more goals to win the victory points (Joey Hastings, Matt MacVicar and Billy Tobin). BOW: Chris Gray and Noel Sloboda (Wolves), as well as Chris Adams and Spence Pickard (Bucks).

Jaguars 5 - Panthers 1

The Jaguars controlled much of the play in their game with the Panthers and booted in a total of five goals (Mina Sheel (2), Rosemary Torrisi, Beth Fagen and Laura Hebeisen on a pass from Mina Sheel) whilst holding the Panthers to one successful shot on their nets. BOW: Pauline Koh, Deirdre Sullivan and Becky Kasper (Jaguars).

Lions 6 - Cheetahs 0

The Lions won a rather lopsided victory over the Cheetahs who worked hard throughout the game to minimize the loss. Kristen Mitchell scored for the Lions, as well as Amy Mencis (2), one on a pass from Stephanie Kuo, Stephanie Kuo (2), one on a pass from Kristen Mitchell, and Susan Boush. BOW: Bryn McGovern and Tricia Novelline (Lions) as well as Elizabeth Shea, Jodi Saunders and Suzanne Goldstein (Cheetahs).

Worn Shocks

Worn shock absorbers can cause undependable braking, skidding, swerving, sideways, poor steering, loss of control, uneven and excessive tire wear, and an annoying, uncomfortable ride. The ALA Auto and Travel Club advises shock absorbers which have weakened due to winter driving should be replaced in the spring.

Under 12 Division Palominos 0 - Ponies 0

Excellent goaltending and defensive play by both teams resulted in a scoreless game, with both teams splitting the points. BOW: goalie Beth Crawford, Barbara Kenny, Susan Hamilton and Andrea Dennett (Palominos), as well as Jennifer Roen and Candace Staron (Ponies).

Colts 1 - Coursers 1

Both teams tallied in the first quarter (Windy Carothers on a pass from Merri Puglia for the Coursers and Caroline Pool for the Colts). They both made many attempts to break the tie throughout the rest of the play, unsuccessfully, and the game ended 1-1, with both teams splitting the points. BOW: Kelly Darwin, goalie, and Melissa Hurley (Colts) as well as Suzanne Kramer and Sharon Hastings (Coursers).

Thoroughbreds 5 - Mustangs 1

The Thoroughbreds held a 4-0 lead at the end of the second quarter. They had to play shorthanded for the balance of the game which diminished their offensive strategy. The Mustangs tallied in the final quarter (Debbi Freeman on a pass from Wendy Abramson) as did the Thoroughbreds, who won a 5-1 victory. BOW: Jennifer Hechemy (Thoroughbreds) as well as Amy Goldstein, Wendy Abramson and Mary Dolan for some great goaltending for the Mustangs.

Pintos 2 - Trotters 0

The Pintos took the lead in the first quarter when Lori Nelson assaulted the Trotters' nets. In the final quarter, they increased their lead when Cristin Ackley scored, and they won the victory points. BOW: Shelley O'Brien and Elizabeth Bakulski (Pintos).

Hunters 4 - Broncos 1

The Hunters played a strong first two quarters during which they scored two goals. The play was more even in the third quarter as the Hunters increased their lead and the Broncos got on the scoreboard (Kelly Ross). In the final quarter, the Hunters scored again, giving them a 4-1 victory over the Broncos. BOW: Dawn Fater (Broncos).

Metros 5 - Tornadoes 2

With two goals in the first quarter, one in the second quarter and two more in the final quarter, the Metros won the victory points. The Tornadoes were only able to tally twice (Mal Galvin) due to strong defensive play by the Metros' fullbacks. Raj Sheel scored for the Metros on a pass from Stephane Kirkland, as well as Jim Sullivan (2) and Tim Higgins (2), one on a pass from Stephane Kirkland. BOW: Stephane Kirkland, Peter Mitchell and Steven Wu (Metros) as well as Andrew Hager, Phillips Kendall and James Mackay (Tornadoes).

Cosmos 3 - Blizzards 1

The Cosmos dominated the first two quarters during which they took the lead with two goals booted in by Ricky Banzi and Jimmy Saalfrank. The Blizzards rallied in the third quarter and they got on the scoreboard; however, the Cosmos upped their lead in the final quarter (Jimmy Saalfrank) and they won the victory points. BOW: Paul McCarthy and John Murgo (Cosmos).

Aztecs 3 - Hurricanes 2

The Hurricanes held a one goal advantage at the end of the first two quarters. In the third quarter the Aztecs rallied and scored two quick goals to win them the victory points. Chris DiClemente tallied for the Hurricanes on a pass from Steve Mencis, as well as Nicky Coon on a pass from Chris DiClemente; the Aztecs goals were booted in by Bob Hughes on a pass from Geoff Bolan and Thacher Worthen.

THOMAS BARENBOM General Mgr.

Family Business

Clark Motor Co. is a family-owned business respected in the automobile field for three generations. They have been located at 273 South Union St., Lawrence for 40 years.

Thomas Barenboim serves as general manager of the company, which has diversified and expanded its rental and leasing departments. The agency is a full service, new and used car dealership.

In the new car line their best offer is the K-car, a six-passenger automobile rated at 41 miles per gallon.

Other popular Chrysler's featured at Clark are the Horizon, LeBaron and luxury Cordoba.

The Old State House, 206 Washington St., Boston, is the oldest public building in Boston, built in 1713. It houses Boston artifacts of 1630 to 1872, paintings, prints, furniture, ship models, Revolutionary and other military uniforms and equipment, ship carvings, nautical materials and an AV presentation. "Boston and Paul Revere."

How Established

Jim How Chevrolet Inc., was established in September of 1976, taking over the long-established Trotter Chevrolet dealership.

In taking over the firm, How expanded the staff and operation, but retained the reputation gained by his predecessor as a "friendly, small-town dealership."

At How, there are no closing rooms, no high pressure managers entering into each deal, no misleading advertising. Each sales representative has his own, open, friendly office where the customer can sit and discuss needs. The salesman handles all aspects of the sale with the customer, from demonstration to sales contracts, pricing and delivery. And, the same salesman will be there when the customer returns for service, to assist, or when its time to trade.

In addition to the new cars displayed in the show room and in the side and back hot-topped yards, How also offers a fine line of used cars and trucks in the front of the dealership.

How invites the public to stop by and examine the offerings on Route 108, Newton, N.H., just three miles from the Hawthill line.

Park -Hegarty Has Audi 5000 Turbo Diesel

Germany builds the best sedans in the world, according to Park-Hegarty orsche Audi, 222 Lowell St., Lawrence.

There are outstanding exceptions from several parts of the globe, but all cars taken collectively Deutschland rules the roost. Last year's introduction of the 5000 Turbo merely solidified this reputation for aggressive excellence.

As fitted with a turbo, the otherwise sedate and perfectly civilized Audi 5000 owns up to a deep-seated, tough-guy personality, but it's the kind of direct and purposeful transformation that fits ever so nicely with a high-livability factor and reasonable fuel economy. Turboed or normally aspirated, the 5000 is a happy and nicely finished family car, trim and well proportioned. A diesel option rounds out the line with very good fuel economy but lowish performance for those who take a really serious view of the energy crisis. Audi's interiors vary from luxuriant to downright natty, and they can be oaced with all manner of comfort and convenience.

Plaistow Offers Subaru

"Because Subaru has been the innovator in designing and marketing their cars, we do not actually compete with U.S. auto manufacturers. As a matter of fact, Subaru has done more to aid U.S. manufacturers in the four-wheel drive category by identifying and developing a new market," according to Alan Carlovitch, sales manager of the Plaistow Subaru, Route 125, Plaistow, N.H.

Carlovitch said he and the buying public are enthused over the 1981 Subaru line. He says, "Although they may look like more expensive imports, rest assured each Subaru is inexpensive and built to stay that way."

The company, one of the oldest Subaru dealers in the area, moved to its present location in July 1977 and has been the region's Subaru outlet since 1973.

Yankee Is New

Yankee Motors is a new dealership to Methuen.

King Nebuchadnezzar created one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World, the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, as a gift to his bride who longed to recapture the beauty of the green hills of her former home. The King, the bride, and the gardens live on in man's memory.

The Pontiac Volkswagen facility formerly known as Parke-Hegarty, is now owned by Yankee and continues to sell the same fine cars, with the sales and service departments under new management.

Pontiac's new J-2000 and T-1000 are just the beginning of a new line of quality GM cars. Joining the Pontiac line is the Volkswagen which has always been the leader in gas-slinging transportation.

Yankee is located at 248 Haverhill St., Methuen

Inside the Mercedes-Benz 240 Diesel—the Mobile Efficiency System:

A zero-excess diesel engine designed for durability.

To Mercedes-Benz engineers, efficiency is not only a matter of the high mileage an engine can squeeze from every gallon of fuel. It is also a matter of how long it can continue doing it—without catastrophic maintenance and repair expenses.

Thus the remarkable 240 Diesel Sedan, a solid five-passenger Mercedes-Benz that can deliver 29 EPA estimated mpg and 33 estimated highway mpg.* With a lively, smooth-running four-cylinder engine built to keep delivering its exceptional efficiency long after the new-car bloom is gone. This zero-excess power plant has an almost granitelike resistance to wear—from its forged steel, five-main-bearing crankshaft to its molybdenum-coated piston rings to its heat-resistant nimonic valve seats. This overhead camshaft design, in brief, is more than just a reliable diesel engine; it is a Mercedes-Benz diesel engine—proved in 142 countries around the world, refined by 45 years of diesel engineering leadership.

The Mercedes-Benz 240 Diesel—the Mobile Efficiency System. Built for long-lasting efficiency.

*EPA estimate for comparison purposes. The mileage you get with this four-speed manual transmission may vary with trip length, speed and weather. Actual highway mileage will probably be less.

Foster Families Needed

Special foster families for Cambodian unaccompanied minors are needed in the Greater Boston area. Hundreds of children await resettlement in third countries, away from the dismal conditions of the refugee camps in Southeast Asia.

Lutheran Service Association of New England is anticipating the release of a number of Cambodian children (mostly older boys who want to go to school) to the Boston area in the next several months. Therefore, a training workshop is slated for Saturday, May 30, at 9 a.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Newtons, Newton center. If Lutheran Service Association is to receive a large number of children, special training must be provided to potential foster families in advance in order to anticipate the cultural, language and educational needs of the children.

Unaccompanied minors cannot be adopted because of the potential for family reunification. Nevertheless, over 80 percent of the children will require a permanent foster home because the parents cannot be located, have not escaped their communist-ruled homeland, or have unknowingly died.

Families and individuals interested in helping these unaccompanied minors are urged to call the Rev. Robert Heiliger, director of the special Foster Care Program.

Although spring brings longer days, the ALA Auto and Travel Club warns motorists not to become careless about using their headlights when necessary during later afternoon and early evening hours.

The Wright Brothers were granted a patent on their airplane on May 22, 1906.

Newman Has Escort

Excitement is the key word at Newman Ford, Route 28, Salem, N.H., with the introduction of the '81 Ford Escort and the '82 EXP, Ford's front-drive entries in the economy car market.

Arnold Newman, the firm's vice president and general manager says that they are selling to a segment of the market previously not interested in the showroom offerings. Ford has committed themselves to quality this year and the public is realizing it, Newman says.

Newman also points out that the agency is receiving many good, low mileage trade-ins.

WHEN YOU CONSIDER WHAT YOU GET IN A SAAB, ITS PRICE MAY BE THE MOST BEAUTIFUL THING ABOUT IT.

A new 1981 Saab is not inexpensive.

But when you realize what you're getting—the superb performance, comfort, safety, quality and economy—you may look at its price in a different light.

The new Saab, for example, has enough cargo space for even the most demanding—a vast 56 cubic feet.

The 1981 Saab has the interior room of a mid-sized car, yet it remains a true compact.

And it has front-wheel drive, making it an extraordinarily sure and good-handling automobile.

Not to mention such standard features as power steering, power disc brakes, 5-speed manual transmission and fuel injection. And much more.

Now look at the price.

Beautiful, isn't it?

Leasing Growth A Steady Thing

Auto leasing is growing in popularity all the time, says Donald Main, vice president of McGregor-Smith Leasing, Inc., 288 Groveland St., Haverhill.

"Many businesses lease their vehicles these days, rather than tying up money in ownership and all the problems that can evolve. What they're doing is using someone else's money rather than their own."

At McGregor-Smith everything from a limousine to a van to a truck, to a K-car can be leased. Main or a member of his staff will be ready to assist. The firm is also in school bus and handicapped vehicle leasing as well.

Also offered at the Haverhill location are formerly leased cars for sale. They

Five Ways You Benefit By Leasing A Vehicle From McGregor-Smith

1. Buy things that appreciate, lease things that depreciate. Equity is fine as long as it is invested in assets that appreciate, such as land. However, when capital funds are tied up in machinery and equipment they do not increase in value, they depreciate. Capital liquidity is one of the major reasons individuals and businesses lease.
2. It's an easy way to automatically keep records for tax purposes, and your lease vehicle is up to 100% tax deductible.
3. The administrative expenses involved in fleet ownership are eliminated.
4. Late model standardized vehicles reflect, for your company, the image of success and prosperity.
5. you receive all the advantages of ownership without the responsibilities. We'll even arrange your insurance, periodic maintenance, licensing, and trade-ins or disposal, if you wish.

TODAY

McGregor-Smith is one of the leaders in the leasing industry. We've built our reputation on service, competitive pricing and ability to satisfy the needs of each of our customers quickly and professionally. Whatever your leasing requirements, McGregor-Smith can help.

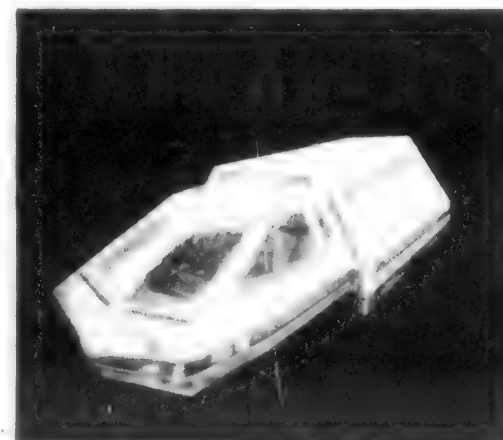

Which Plan Is Best For You?

Under an open end lease, you pay all operating costs. You pay (or collect) any difference between the depreciation accrual and the car's actual market value at the end of the lease. As a general rule, this is the lowest monthly cost type of lease arrangement.

The closed end lease is similar, except that the term of the lease is fixed, and the car's resale value is predetermined—guaranteed by the leasing company.

When your vehicle is in for service we'll provide you with a loaner vehicle at no charge.

At McGregor-Smith, we'll help you determine which plan suits you best.

With one week remaining in the first half of the Little League baseball season, the Tigers have wrapped up first place.

Red Sox 18 - Twins 5

Red Sox hurlers Steve DeVoir and Matt Burke limited the Twins to just four hits while racking up 18 runs on 12 hits enroute to a 18-5 victory over the Twins.

Twin pitchers James Berberian, Steve Rikeman and Mike Lane had a rough time surrendering 12 hits and walking 14 Sox batters as well.

Gerry Nassiff continued his hot hitting with a perfect four for the day at the plate (4 RBIs). Jeff Edwards, Burke and Kurt Burzlaff chipped in with two safeties.

First baseman Rikeman of the Twins starred defensively.

Red Sox 3 - Twins 1

Gerry Nassiff's stellar two-way performance led the Red Sox to a 3-1 win over the Twins. Nassiff upped his pitching record to 4-1, tossing a three hitter, striking out seven and walking two. Offensively Nassiff delivered two hits, driving in a pair of runners to lead all hitters. Nassiff's two safeties marked the seventh time in eight games he has had two or more hits.

Greg DeVoir and brother, Steve, had the other Sox hits.

White Sox 9 - Orioles 8

The White Sox broke an 8-8 deadlock in the bottom of the sixth inning to beat the Orioles 9-8 and all but eliminate the Orioles hopes of any first half, first place finish.

National League Race Tightens Up!

By Dan and Jim Grams

The Cardinals began looking over their shoulders as last week's action came to an end. The Cards, who had been upset the previous week by the Cubs, were once again surprised; this time by the Pirates. Three teams are tied for the top with just one week left to go in the first half.

Pirates 3 - Cards 0

The Pirates upped their winning streak with a shocking 3-0 blanking of the cards. Peter Sandler picked up the win with relief help from Steve Wilson who was credited with the save. The two hurlers combined to toss at three hitter, striking out 9 and walking 1.

James Reagan and Robin Kim had the clutch Pirate hits. Driving in runs with doubles. Sandler chipped in with a single. Reagan was also a defensive standout behind the plate.

Steve Donovan, Steven Surrence and Ted Cormier were the Cardinal's hurlers.

Cormier added two of the Cardinals three hits.

Cubs 6 - Braves 3

The Cubs hit attack led by John Russell and Scott Grant (three hits apiece) was the chief cause for the win.

Cub 10-year-old John Russell pitched six innings of strong ball while Cam Deery pitched the last two to pick up the win of this eight inning game.

With the score 1-1 in the top of the third the Cubs began a rally scoring two runs then with two outs it looked like the Cubs would pile on some more runs, but it all ended as Steve Mencia made a diving stab to prevent a double and end the threat.

The Cubs scored three in the eighth when Eric Goodman belted a double to center field to break open the game.

For the Braves Brendan McGrail made two fine running catches in center field.

The star of the game was John Russell, pitching six strong innings and collecting three hits. Eric Goodman and Mark Russell also had two hits apiece.

Cubs 7 - Cardinals 5

The Cubs scored seven runs in the first two innings to run away with a 7-5 decision over the Cardinals to hand the Cardinals their first loss of the season.

Although the Cubs only had four hits they all came in clutch run scoring situations as John Russell, Jay Trepanier (1 RBI), Scott Grant (1 RBI) and Dave Flanders (2 RBIs) were the big hitters.

As for the star of the game, Cubs coach Neil Hendry stated "The whole team deserves credit for the win." With Dave Flanders pitching four strong innings of relief and picking up a clutch hit.

Pirates 15 - Mets 1

The Pirates picked up their first win of the season by making no errors and using their bats to pound out 12 hits for a 15-1 defeat over the Mets.

Stars of the game were James Reagan and Robin Kim. Reagan pitched six innings while striking out 11, walking but two and allowing just one earned run. He also had two hits. Kim had three hits including two doubles.

Dodgers 10 Braves 6

After a shaky start, Dodger pitchers Tim Adams and Mark Elefanti put things together to limit the Braves to just one hit over the next five stanzas.

The Braves jumped out to an early 4-0 lead, but the Dodgers battled back on key hits by Mike Moriarty and Larry Aiello.

Donald Sullivan and Steve Mencia shared the pitching chores for the Braves, allowing 10 hits.

Moriarty, Aiello and Glen Farnham had two hits apiece to pace the Dodgers. Mike Dimeo also ripped a double.

Mencia and Joshua Yezerski had two hits for the Braves.

Joe Lyons and Farnham were defensive stars for the Dodgers.

Cubs 5 - Pirates 4

You would never have known that both teams were at the bottom, for it turned out to be an exciting well played game.

Eric Goodman picked up the win in relief of Cubs starter Dave Flanders.

Peter Sandler played a fine all-around game for the Pirates in a losing effort. Sandler hurled four frames before giving way to Bob Beanland and Jeremy Payne. Sandler went a perfect three-for-three at the plate.

Payne and Rod McAllister were the Pirates defensive standouts.

Dodgers 8 - Giants 1

After losing handily to the Giants last week, the Dodgers were more than equal to the task this time around with a sound 8-1 victory over the Giants.

Last week's hurlers Larry Aiello and Chris Colsia hooked up again in what appeared to be another one run ball game, but the Dodgers tallied six runs in the middle innings to wrap it up.

Both pitchers once again turned in outstanding performances with Chris Colsia striking out a season high 15 batters. Aiello was no slouch by any means, striking out nine.

The Dodgers were led offensively by Mike Moriarty and Todd Patti who each had three hits. Marke Elefanti and Mike Dimeo chipped in with two hits apiece.

Patti and Elefanti also played well defensively for the victors combining to handle eight balls flawlessly.

Pirates 12 - Astros 7

Eric Guzowski started for the Astros and was relieved by Bryan Page, who pitched two strong innings striking out all six batters he faced.

Matt Lavin and Eddie Greenwood had two hits apiece to pace the Astros hitters, now 0-5.

Astros 18 - Pirates 7

The Astros pounded out 17 hits enroute to a 18-7 decision over the Pirates.

Beckey Penner, Steve Prochniak and Matt Lavin handled the pitching for the Astros, while Eddie Greenwood and Ian Davis stood out defensively.

American League

Yankees 13 - Red Sox 6

A seven-run third inning opened up the flood gates, and led the Yankees to an upset victory over the Red Sox 13-6.

Mark Hashem picked up his two complete game victory in a row for the Yanks twirling a six hitter. Hashem struck out 10, while walking three.

Steve DeVoir was roughed up for seven runs on six hits. Before giving way to Matt Burke, Kevin Foley finished up for the Sox.

Scott Powers enjoyed a perfect 3-for-3 day at the plate for the Yanks. Tom Tormey shined behind the plate in his catching debut.

Gerry Nassif was the lone bright spot for the Sox with a towering home run.

Matt Gibson was injured in the game and taken to the hospital. He returned later in the week.

Tigers 6 - Indians 3

The Tigers wrapped up the first half American League race early with a sound 6-3 victory over the scrappy Indians. The win marked the fifth year in a row in which the Tigers have qualified for post season play.

Tiger right hander Scott Wallace went the distance tossing an eight hitter, striking out 10, while only allowing one walk.

Jamie O'Brien was the tough luck loser in relief of Jon Anderson.

Dave Rourke and Earl Abdo each had two doubles apiece for the victors, while John Moosa chipped in with a single.

Matt Pothier and O'Brien had two hits for the Tribe, while Jeff Smith, Matt Shine, Brian Costello and 10-year-old John Glynn had single safeties.

Abdo and Shine turned in fine defensive games, making some spectacular diving catches.

White Sox 8 - Twins 1

Jim Sullivan allowed one run, while striking out one and walking three, as the White Sox defeated the Twins 8-1.

Ken Bellino and Paul Derba each had two hits, while Bellino knocked in four runs and Derba two to pace the Sox.

Dave Shaffer made an outstanding running catch in the outfield, while Derba made two diving stabs to spark the Sox.

in the highest over budget, Clark said; estimates for that school fell $1.5 million short of the $5.8 million bid price.

The high school additions, including a 1,250-seat auditorium and playing fields, came in at $3.9 million, $400,000 higher than estimated.

However, West Junior High, which will get a new Instructional Material Center (library), came in $200,000 lower than expected, totalling $600,000.

In addition, the program budget includes studies, administrative costs, the contingency fund and architects' fees totalling $12,955,521, and alternates to the basic project totalling $324,300. The alternates include new windows and a greenhouse at Doherty, an auto shop and physical education storage space at the high school, and a ceiling, lights and thermal insulation at West.

required sites of 15 to 30 acres, with water and sewer services adjacent to the sites. The bylaw also proposed 40 percent open space to provide a buffer for abutters, and would have provided incentives to developers to provide "affordable" housing.

The bylaw also called for planning board approval of developers' proposals through a special permit process, rather than town meeting approval of each proposed development.

Shattuck

buildings if a buyer can not be found soon.

Arkwright had agreed to restrictions on the use of the buildings, Allen indicated, that would give the Historic Commission, Planning Board and Board of Appeals control over how the buildings would be used.

But Atty. John Willis, Jr. of North Andover, representing abutter Philip Hale of River Road, maintained that there was "no way to enforce those restrictions." He pointed out that any type of retail establishment could end up in the buildings, and that the parcel is "too small to put the things on it they want to do."

The attorney added that Hale now has a buffer of trees shielding him from the industrial park, but if the parcel were to be rezoned, "he will be looking at a parking lot."

Objections were also raised by Selectman Susan Poore, speaking from the floor as a private citizen, and former Planning Board Chairman Margaret Keck of Harold Parker Road.

"I have never seen so many pressures on our zoning bylaw as I have on this warrant," Poore said. "Our bylaw is beginning to be put to highly intense pressure — some people call it progress." The selectman called the proposal "spot zoning."

She also agreed with Atty. Willis that the restrictions were "really just gentlemen's agreements that are not binding by law."

Keck said she was "nervous" about "creating a little island of retail zoning in the tech park" because it would alter the Industrial D zone, which was "done with great care, and years and years of planning, to make it the toughest, best industrial zone we have in town."

Stephen Flashenburg of Launching Road also called the article "spot zoning," and warned that if town meeting adopted the article, it would be taking "a very dangerous course of action. If it happens in one zone, it will happen in another, and pretty soon our zoning bylaw won't mean anything."

Arkwright representative Steve Kasnet argued unsuccessfully that the deed restrictions would be enforced, saying that the developer's "12-year presence here speaks for itself."

And Selectman Donn Byrne added that he did not believe the Historic Commission or Board of Appeals would allow "anything detrimental to the town" to happen on the parcel.

According to the article, if no buyer could be found for the buildings after one year, the parcel would revert back to Industrial D zoning. Permitted uses on the parcel, with a Board of Appeals special permit, would have included personal or consumer services, a health care office or clinic, a restaurant, and parking of commercial vehicles.

Dachshunds were originally used to drive badgers from their holes, which the dogs could enter because of their short legs.

PAYING OFF THE BALLOON

A second mortgage on a property is normally known as a balloon mortgage because only interest is paid during the term of the loan and the principal "balloons" and must be paid in full at the termination. If it's a six year loan you may start to worry about how to raise the money come year number five.

One of the painless ways is to consider the magic of refinancing. Here's an example of how it would work.

Say the purchase price was $50,000 and you got a 25 year 8% loan with a first mortgage of $35,000 and a second mortgage of $5,000. If the property increased at only 6% per year, it would be worth about $67,000 in ter 5 years. If you refinanced with a 70% first mortgage ($47,000), this would give you enough cash to pay off your first mortgage balance of $32,300 plus your $5,000 second mortgage. Then you end up with almost $10,000 put in your pocket - free from any current income tax. Always consider refinancing at a later date. It is one of the main financial tools of professional investors.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover, Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Redistricting Plan Adopted

By Linda S. Corbett

A redistricting plan that provides a more equitable teacher:pupil ratio across town and makes "more sense" geographically, was adopted by the school committee last week.

Plans are now underway to make the transition for pupils as smooth as possible, and youngsters who will be transferring in September will be visiting their new buildings before the end of this school year, according to Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert.

The major changes in the redistricting proposal made two weeks earlier are in the Locke Street-School Street-Essex Street area, and in the Upper Elm Street area, and primarily involve youngsters who attended Doherty School before it was closed a year ago.

The second redistricting of school boundaries in as many years was required by a recent school committee decision to close Shawsheen School to pupils in the fall.

The first plan presented by a redistricting committee met with considerable opposition because it left Bancroft and West Elementaries more crowded than ever, while Sanborn and South were underutilized.

Under the proposal adopted last week, the South School boundaries will now be extended north along Main Street, beyond the former cutoff at Phillips Street through the Center to Friendly's, down Pearson Street to the railroad tracks, south via the tracks and Dascomb Road to I-93, then down to the North Reading line.

Former Doherty youngsters who live inside the extended area (on Old South Lane, Central, Abbot, Locke, School and Brook Streets, for instance), and who were redistricted to West last year, will be given the option of staying at West, moving to Bancroft with many of their former Doherty peers and principal, or going to South. New youngsters in the neighborhood will presumably go to South.

At the I-93 end of Dascomb Road, pupils who live on Partridge Hill Road or Cardinal Lane will remain at Sanborn, even though they are in the South district, because they are more closely linked to Sanborn geographically.

Former Doherty youngsters in the upper Elm Street area, who were moved to Shawsheen last year, will be going to Bancroft. Those in the Johnson Acres area, from Shipman Road down to Burton Farm, will remain at West where they were redistricted last year except for kindergartners and first graders. Youngsters in the two beginning grades must go to Bancroft, in anticipation of the whole area being transferred there in another couple of years.

West Elementary Principal Jack Coyle, who has been heading up the redistricting effort for the administrators, said this new plan still leaves a "bulge" in the upper grades at Bancroft and West, but that the bulge will be passing through in another year.

He said they anticipate that the whole area east of Main Street, up to Harding Street, High Street and the North Andover line, will eventually go to Bancroft.

The remainder of the former Shawsheen pupils will be moving to West, including all of High Street and the apartments, for now.

The Sanborn district will take on the triangle bounded by Route 133, I-495 and I-93, an area originally in Sanborn but moved to West a few years ago. However, 6th graders in the Rutgers Road-Sheffield Road section will be given the option of finishing their final year at West.

Seifert last week said that the plan "really allows more equitable pupil:teacher ratios in the schools, and will allow more efficient utilization of the buildings.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos added that the administration's main concern is "what's at the end of the bus ride or the walk to school." He said the youngsters who will be moving will find the curriculum is consistent from school to school, and that the transition won't be much different from the ordinary grade to grade changes.

Under the new plan, the anticipated building enrollments will be 578 at Bancroft, 417 at South, 475 at Sanborn, 605 in the West Contemporary and 300 in the West Traditional.

If the first plan had materialized, enrollments were projected at about 600 at Bancroft, 1,000 at West, 429 at Sanborn and 374 at South.

Senior Service Sunday

Andover High seniors, their parents, and the clergymen of Andover will celebrate their faith in an ecumenical Baccalaureate Service Sunday at 8 p.m. at St. Augustine's Church.

The 1981 Baccalaureate Committee invites the entire community to join in the evening of celebration with the theme, "You have touched me; I have grown."

There will be songs, poems, testimonies, slides and readings from all faiths.

Refreshments will be served following the ceremony.

Wind Energy

Wind blowing daily across our planet has more energy than we can ever dig or pump out of the earth, according to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. By 1999, 300,000 large wind turbines could be producing 13 percent of the electricity this nation will require, replacing daily 2 million barrels of imported oil. A government survey reports that in 20 years, wind energy could be practical for 9 million families, Massachusetts Audubon notes.
